Jumbuck Appoints Ted Verani, SVP Sales and Marketing

Melbourne, Australia, Sept 1, 2008. Jumbuck Entertainment Limited ("Jumbuck") is pleased to announce the appointment of Ted Verani to the role of Senior Vice President, Sales and Marketing with a mandate to drive global sales and off portal revenues from the enlarged Jumbuck product range, following the July acquisition of Plutolife LLC.

Ted joins Jumbuck from Trilibis Mobile where he occupied a similar position for the last three years and was instrumental in building that company's carrier network as well as launching Match.com Mobile and other community applications worldwide. Prior to Trilibis, Ted had a rich and extensive career in Mobile, including VP Business Development at Enpocket (now Nokia Interactive), where he was responsible for Content & Community Applications, Vodafone Global Platform, where he handled Content & Applications, and AirTouch Cellular (Verizon Wireless), where he managed SMS products.

"I am passionate about the mobile communities industry and have always had nothing but respect for Jumbuck's leadership position in it," said Verani. "I am therefore very excited to have the opportunity now to join Jumbuck and help take it to the next level in this rapidly developing market."

Ted will be based in Jumbuck's San Francisco Office.
